

The menu is set against a black and white diamond-patterned background. On the left, a large red rose is at the top, with a pocket watch and a stack of three floral teacups below it. On the right, a black top hat with a red band is at the top, with a blue bottle of 'Drink Me' and a smaller red rose below it. At the bottom, a tiered stand holds various pastries, and a teapot with two cups is in the center. Playing cards (Ace of Hearts and Ace of Spades) are in the top right corner. A small logo with a red 'C' and a film camera is in the bottom center.

MENU

COURSE 1

ROSES ARE RED

Beetroot blossoms, Emmental, bocconcini, cherry tomatoes and basil—a playful nod to the roses that weren't quite the right colour.

COURSE 2

EAT ME, DRINK ME

Lemon sherbet in a film-accurate “Drink Me” shrink-me bottle and a Parmesan pizza tart in authentic “Eat Me” wrapping, hidden inside a locked chest awaiting discovery.

COURSE 3

TWEEDLEDEE & TWEEDLEDUM

Twin lentil meatballs nestled in a rich crimson tomato sauce, served just as inseparable as Wonderland's famous brothers.

COURSE 4

TWISTED TEA PARTY

Step into the Mad Hatter's tea party with a curious spread of cucumber finger sandwiches, spinach tart, a delicate rose macaron, onion relish, and mint pea dip paired with fragrant jasmine tea, it's the perfect Mad Hatter tea party experience.

MENU

COURSE 5

WISFUL DRINKING

A lychee potion served with enchanted Wish Essence. Make a wish, pour, and watch it transform into a vibrant color.

COURSE 6

THE CRIMSON MEMORY

A delicate cottage cheese roulade (vegetarian) or chicken roulade (non-vegetarian), nestled amongst Wonderland greens and finished with a pomegranate elixir that symbolizes memory and transformation.

COURSE 7

SIX IMPOSSIBLE THINGS

A collection of miniature desserts inspired by Alice's six impossible memories: a blue potion, an "Eat Me" pastry, a disappearing cat, a Jabberwocky truffle, a talking rabbit, and a taste of wonderland.

Please be advised that the menu options for this film are vegetarian and non vegetarian
We cannot cater for any other dietary requirements, or allergens, for this experience.